watch and chain worth $25 and $11 in money taken.

During the night burglars forced an entrance into Hehrens Bros. grocery, 918 Franklin avenue, and obtained about $10 worth of goods.

A plate-glass window in Daniel J. Stack's hakery, 798 Classon avenue, was broken and the burglars got $11.

Rienard Davis, of 217 Navy street, was arrested in New York last night charged with being implicated in robbing oldst Hanson of his gold watch in the hall of 779 Myrtle avenue. The other man, named Douglas, was arrested on suspicion of having robbed the hardware store of John W. Stymus, 327 Myrtle avenue.

William Quinn, of 583 Fulton street, is under arrest charged with stealing a clock from H. D. Croney, who lives in the same house.

To an Evening World reporter Gordon told this story:

"I won the salcon at 598 and the house at 588 Driggs street. I admit I drink a little, but on two occasions, in order to get me out the impression that no such negotiations or the way, my immediate relatives have had me put away,

"Two weeks ago they sent me to the Insane Asylum at Firstbush, and Slonday morning at 11 oclock Dr. Dures told me there was not anything the matter with me and sent me away.

"I week back to the score and some the Brooklyn street railroads.

Mr. Lewis seemed to be attempting to give out the impression that no such negotiations or first a broom," had, many of them, found their way into the Chanceller's room, where the atmosphere is so redolent of dignity as to be almost oppressive.

The students had observed all this from points of vantage, and more; they know the son assured an Evening World reporter that there were no negotiations on for the
